One Stop Displays Posts Record Quarterly Sales

One Stop Displays (OSD) - a leading manufacturer of OLED and PLED displays, and value-added supplier of full color TFT displays, today announced that sales results for its first fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2005 increased 15% versus results for the same period one year ago.

CEO and President, Khaled R. Khuda, announced today that One Stop Displays is also on track to eclipse last years 2nd quarter results. OSD's color OLED technology has been selected as a key component by two manufacturers of hand held audio/video players or Personal Media Players (PMPs). The small sized products will use 65k color OLED displays and will function as an MP3 jukebox with the added features of video, photography and TV reception. Both programs are currently in the prototype production phase with initial volume production expected to commence in late Q2 of 2005.

One Stop Displays serves the North America marketplace and has an international segment, which sells LCD and OLED products in Latin America and Europe. Founded in 2003, the Company markets display products to over 300 manufactures and is committed to empowering them with tools and services designed to help them grow.
